Before the day draws near its ending

John Ellerton
(1826-93)

The first system of the musical score is written for piano in 3/2 time, featuring a treble and bass staff. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The melody in the treble staff begins with a half note G3, followed by quarter notes A3, B-flat3, and C4. The bass staff provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes. A first ending bracket is placed over the final two measures of the system.

The vocal score is written for a single voice in 3/2 time, with a treble staff. The key signature has two flats. The lyrics are aligned with the musical notes. The score includes three verses of the hymn. The first verse is followed by a first ending bracket. The second and third verses are also followed by first ending brackets. The musical notation includes various note values and rests, with some notes being beamed together.

1 Before the day draws near its ending,
And evening steals o'er earth and sky,
Once more to Thee our hymns ascending
Shall speak Thy praises, Lord Most High.

2 O Light all clear, O Truth most holy,
O boundless Mercy pardoning all,
Before Thy feet, abashed and lowly,
With one last prayer Thy children fall.

3 When we no more on earth adore Thee,
And others worship here in turn,
O may we sing that song before Thee,
Which none but Thy redeemed can learn.
